DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kumagai et al. (US 5,984,692) in view of Moran (US 6,149,443).

Kumagai et al. discloses an electrical connector for connecting between first and second printed circuit boards, the connector comprising the basic instant claimed invention except for a member comprises first and second portions having different sizes and parallel to each other.

Moran teaches a conductive member for connecting between two circuit boards, the member comprises first and second portions having different sizes and parallel to each other.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time invention was made to modify the connector of Kumagai et al. to provide the design connector as taught by Moran for the purpose of facilitate the reliable electric connection between two circuit board.
